DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is to the communication filed on 03/18/2004, and the response to the Election/Restriction requirement filed on 07/09/2007.

Claims 1-5 are elected without traverse. The remains claims should be canceled in the next reply.

Claims 1-39 are pending in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-3 recite generating "a file". This limitation is indefinite because it is unclear the function and the meaning of A FILE.

Claims 1-3 recite reconstructing "the device driver information". This limitation is indefinite because it lacks antecedent basis in the claims.

Claims 4-5 recite generating "a file". This limitation is indefinite because it is unclear the function and the meaning of A FILE.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gomez et al., US Pat. No. 7,106,472 B2 (Hereinafter: Gomez), filed on 10/31/2002.

Given the broadest reasonable interpretation of followed claims in light of the specification.

As per Claim 1: Gomez discloses, A method of generating a device driver having a plurality of functional components (See FIG. 3 and associated text, refer to #24, #26), the method comprising:

generating a file (e.g. #26) for each functional component (the base Functions #25 and the Extended Function #27) of the device driver and a user interface (refer to # 22) ; rebuilding only a file corresponding to the functional component to be modified to make a device driver installation program when a modification of a functional component is needed (See FIG. 3, i.e. Customized Printer Driver; see FIG. 2, #20); and reconstructing the device driver information using a file corresponding to the functional component selected by a user on the device driver installation program and generating an update to the device driver using the reconstructed device driver information (See FIG. 2, and whole reference).

As per Claim 2: Gomez discloses, The method of claim 1, wherein the generating the file comprises constructing each functional component according to a model and functions of a device and generating the file for each functional component (See FIG. 2 and FIG. 3).

As per Claim 3: Gomez discloses, The method of claim 1, wherein the device driver is used in a printer, and each functional component has a data structure value of a DEVICE MODE (DEVMODE) as a parameter (See FIG. 9).

As per Claim 4: Gomez discloses, An apparatus generating a device driver having a plurality of functional components, the apparatus comprising: an installation program maker (FIG. 3) which generates a file for each functional component of the device driver and a user interface and rebuilds only the file corresponding to a functional component to be modified to make a device driver installation program; and a driver generator which reconstructs information on the device driver to be installed using the file corresponding to the functional component selected by a user on the device driver installation program and generates an update to the device driver using the reconstructed device driver information. And See the rationale addressed in Claim 1 above.

As per Claim 5: Gomez discloses, The apparatus of claim 4, wherein the device driver is used in a printer, and each functional component has a data structure value of a DEVICE MODE (DEVMODE) as a parameter (See FIG. 9).
